Windows black screen after booting up

1. It looks like this is a common issue for Macbook but there are some workarounds to make it work.

   You can try to sign in by shining a flashlight onto the Macbook and typing in your password. Go to brightness settings and disable adaptive brightness and see if it will solve the issue.